

Overview

When the development of a full-scale API integration with Pilot is not a viable option to our customers, they can instead embed URLs to the Tracking or Scheduling modules on Pilot's website (<https://www.pilotdelivers.com>). These URLs, which are listed as follows, can be used, for instance, in communications or directly inside a system or an application outside of Pilot's ownership to allow easy navigation.

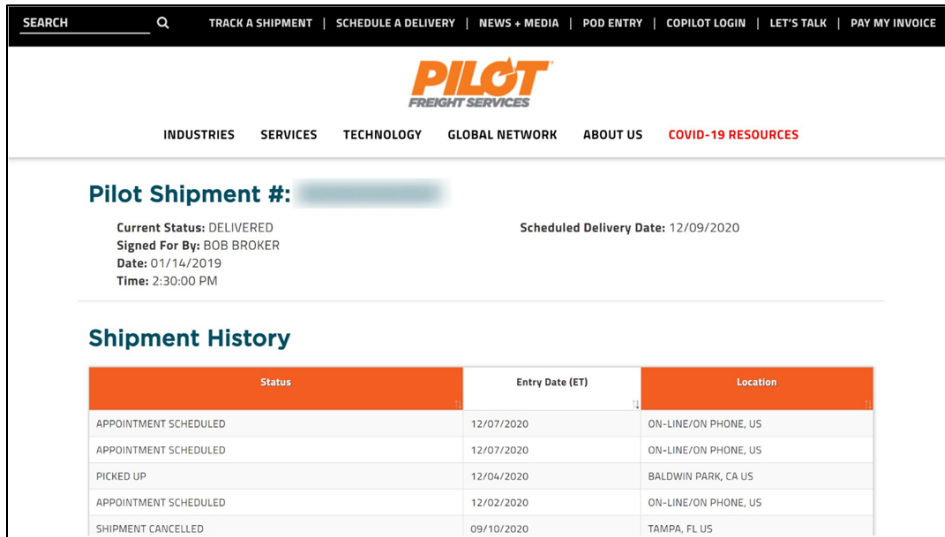

Tracking Module URLs

We highly recommend that the following new URLs are used. The legacy URLs will soon be discontinued.

<https://www.pilotdelivers.com/pilot-shipment-detail/?Pro=XXXXXXXX>

Example of a printer-friendly shipment:

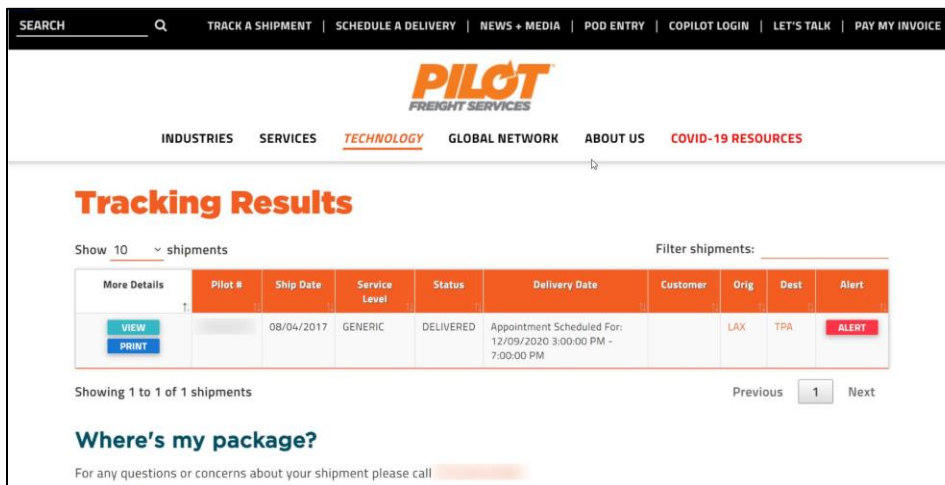

The screenshot shows the Pilot Freight Services website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links: SEARCH, TRACK A SHIPMENT, SCHEDULE A DELIVERY, NEWS + MEDIA, POD ENTRY, COPILOT LOGIN, LET'S TALK, and PAY MY INVOICE. Below this is the Pilot logo and a secondary navigation bar with links: INDUSTRIES, SERVICES, TECHNOLOGY, GLOBAL NETWORK, ABOUT US, and COVID-19 RESOURCES.

The main content area displays "Pilot Shipment #:" followed by a blurred ID. Below this, it shows "Current Status: DELIVERED" and "Scheduled Delivery Date: 12/09/2020". Other details include "Signed For By: BOB BROKER", "Date: 01/14/2019", and "Time: 2:30:00 PM".

A section titled "Shipment History" contains a table with the following data:

Status	Entry Date (ET)	Location
APPOINTMENT SCHEDULED	12/07/2020	ON-LINE/ON PHONE, US
APPOINTMENT SCHEDULED	12/07/2020	ON-LINE/ON PHONE, US

We highly recommend that the following new URL is used. The legacy URL will soon be discontinued.

Example of the Scheduling module:

Notes:

- A shipment may or may not be scheduled for outbound deliveries via the Scheduling module based on the following:
 - Distance from Pilot’s nationwide domestic stations: Currently, the application is limited to points within a 65-mile radius from a station.
 - Home-delivery service level requested: Some levels, e.g., Pilot’s Premier Service, entail resources that cannot be scheduled online, such as specialized services, equipment, and personnel.
- Current location of the freight: Pilot does not allow scheduling of deliveries until the freight is in one of our stations or beyond the agent’s physical possession.
